NEW COURSE INFORMATION FORM

See Sample: Limit to One Page.

Course Identification:

Prefix:	Number	Title
PHIL	290	Philosophy in the French Tradition

Course Description:

French intellectuals and philosophers have had a profound influence on the development of western philosophical, and secular and religious thought. In this course we will read significant French intellectuals of each century, such as Descartes, Montaigne, La Fontaine, Voltaire, and Camus, 2) we will consider the reception of German philosophers, notably Kant, Nietzsche and Heidegger, in the French intellectual tradition, and finally, 3) we will learn how these continental thinkers have contributed to the development of philosophical thought in the anglo-saxon tradition.

Course Outcomes:

CULTURAL ENRICHMENT. PHIL 290 fulfills the Cultural Enrichment outcomes: "provide interpretive approaches to the events, arts, languages, or ideas of cultures."; "Offer an appreciation and understanding of the 'techniques' of the arts or disciplines."; "Help students explore new ways to perceive, think, experience, and value."; and "Provide knowledge and appreciation of the components of a culture."

GLOBAL CONSCIOUSNESS: PHIL 290 clearly fulfills the Global Consciousness outcomes:

1. At least 50% of the course content must be concerned with one or more of the following areas of a region(s) or country(ies) outside North America: Geography, Economics, Language(s), Culture(s), History.
2. The course must focus on understanding such regions or countries. Narrowly specific material that does not develop understanding of the area, in its broadest sense, does not foster "global consciousness."
3. The course should introduce, clarify or clearly use methods for understanding other regions and other cultures, including global interrelationships.

Course Outline including Time Allocation:

STUDY ABROAD: May 8 – 25, 2007. The students will have daily lectures in the course of the trip, visit museums and monuments of historical, religious and philosophical interest. They will also have daily classes while staying with the host families in Avignon, and the hotel in Paris and Cap d'Ail. Because the course is for 6 credits, additional writing assignments will be required, e.g. a 15-20 pg paper.

Subject Re: PHIL 290 Proposal

Thanks for the heads-up, Val. Can this be done by email? The "Philosophy in the French Tradition" on Form F, could simply be changed to "Philosophy in France" (18 letters)...?

Let me know if something more formal is required, would you please!

Thanks.

Hi David,

Mo Milzarski, Academic Affairs called to say that the title "Philosophy in the French Tradition" on Form F (which is the form that the records office works with) is too long for the Banner system. The title is 34 spaces and should be no more than 30. Please make the change and send Mo a copy to CSS 310.

Thank you.

Val
