FERRIS STATE HOCKEY EXPERIENCE – THE “DAWG POUND”

“Since we instituted the student section “the Dawg Pound,” this has become one of the toughest places to play in the country. You see quotes about it from people all over the league, especially the goalies. They just hate coming here because the crowd is always riding them. It’s just outstanding to see the way the students support our team.”

– Ferris State Athletics Director Tom Kirinovic

“The atmosphere in which the student section has developed over time gives our guys a distinct advantage, so much as it seems like we have a seventh man on the ice. We (coaching staff) believe it has become the toughest facility for opposing teams to play in.”

– Ferris State Associate Head Coach Drew Famulak
