

Men's & Women's Bulldog Cross Country Invitational History

Historical Notes:

- This year, 2007, marks the 32nd straight (33rd overall) running of the Bulldog Invitational. Either a men's or women's event has been held each year since 1976.
- The first men's race was held in 1971. It was then discontinued and restarted in 1976. Ferris did not participate in men's cross country from 1994-98. The Bulldog men have claimed two team titles.
- The women's invitational has been held every year since the program began in 1980. This year, 2007, marks the 28th consecutive women's race. The Ferris women have won eight team championships.
- The event was called the Ferris State Invitational until 1984 when it was renamed the Bulldog Invitational.
