

BULLDOG COACHING STAFF

CORY ANDERSON
Assistant Coach ♦ Sixth Season
Ferris State, 1999

Former Ferris State men's basketball player Cory Anderson is in his sixth season as a full-time assistant men's basketball coach at FSU after being retained by current head coach Bill Sall.

Anderson is the 18th assistant coach in Ferris State basketball history and the fourth FSU graduate to later serve as an assistant coach in the Bulldog program.

Prior to becoming a full-time assistant, Anderson served as a student assistant during the 1998-99 campaign. He is the older brother of former FSU center Adam Anderson (1998-03), who played professional basketball in Egypt last season.

As an assistant coach, Anderson is instrumental in all phases of the program. He assists in the day-to-day operations and is also involved with the coaching, recruiting and administrative aspects. Anderson also helps direct and organize FSU's camp program.

A two-year (1996-98) letterwinner for the Bulldogs, Anderson served as a senior tri-captain during the 1997-98 campaign. In 1997-

98, he helped lead FSU to its first-ever GLIAC Tournament title, an appearance in the NCAA Tournament and the school's first 20-win season in nine years. He averaged 6.2 points and 4.4 rebounds per game while starting all 33 contests.

During his two-year career at Ferris State, Anderson started 47 consecutive games and tallied 343 points and 248 rebounds. He totaled 10.0 points and 5.7 rebounds per contest as a junior.

Prior to joining FSU, Anderson spent two seasons (1994-96) at NCAA Division III power Calvin College where he averaged 6.8 points and 5.1 rebounds per game. He was originally recruited to play for the Knights by Sall, who at the time was an assistant coach at Calvin.

A 1994 graduate of Kent City High School, Anderson was a two-time all-state selection in basketball and football. The 6-5 prep standout also garnered All-Newaygo County Athletic Association honors three times each in both sports.

The son of John and Sally Anderson of Kent City, Mich., Anderson graduated from Ferris State with a bachelor's degree in education in 1999. He is presently engaged to Robyn Sicard and the couple is planning a July 2005 wedding.

BILL KILLIAN
Volunteer
Assistant Coach

Bill Killian returns to the Ferris State men's basketball program for his third season as a volunteer assistant coach on head coach Bill Sall's Bulldog staff.

Killian, who previously served for seven seasons as an assistant under former FSU head coach Tom Ludwig, assists with the on-court instruction and skill development of FSU's players.

A native of Chicago, Ill., Killian is employed as a professor in the physical sciences department at Ferris State. Killian, who has worked at Ferris since 1987, teaches courses in both general and industrial chemistry. In addition, he also is the coordinator for Ferris' Industrial Chemistry Technology program.

Besides being involved in the Bulldog men's basketball program, Killian also was a volunteer assistant in the FSU baseball program under Judd Folske from 1988-92. He has also worked as a part-time professional baseball scout.

As a collegiate athlete, Killian earned four letters each in basketball and baseball at North Park College in Chicago, Ill. He went on to complete his masters degree and worked as a graduate assistant at Ohio State.

After leaving Ohio State, Killian became the head baseball coach at St. Francis DeSales High School in Columbus, Ohio. He led DeSales to a 92-26 record and a state championship in 1979 before returning to North Park as an assistant basketball coach. During his tenure at his alma mater, North Park won an NCAA Division III National Championship in 1986. He also served one year as the head basketball coach at George Williams College in Illinois.

Killian and his wife, Michele, reside in Stanwood, Mich., with their three sons, Joe, Dan and Billy. Their son, Billy, was a third-round pick of the San Diego Padres in the 2004 Major League Baseball draft, the 72nd overall selection. He was the highest Michigan prep player drafted last year.

JIM LAKE
Volunteer
Assistant Coach

Jim Lake begins his second season as a volunteer assistant men's basketball coach at Ferris State University following seven years of prep coaching experience.

The 29-year-old Lake is currently employed as a teacher at Chippewa Hills High School in Remus, Mich. In addition, he spent five seasons as the head varsity girls basketball coach for the Warriors from 1999-2003. Besides coaching Chippewa Hills' varsity girls team, Lake also served as an assistant varsity boys basketball coach for the school during the same time period.

From 1995-97, Lake was the junior varsity boys basketball coach at Mt. Pleasant (Mich.) Baptist Academy. He went on to coach the varity squad from 1996-99. During the 1996-97 campaign, he was the youngest (21) head coach for a Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA) member school.

A native of Spokane, Wash., Lake graduated from North Branch (Mich.) High School in 1994. As a prepster, he participated in both football and basketball. He also attained all-area and all-conference accolades on the gridiron for the Broncos.

The son of Thomas and Suzanne Hunter of North Branch, Mich., Lake earned a bachelor of science degree in education with an emphasis in social studies and a minor in history from Central Michigan University in 1999.

Lake, who enjoys golf and fishing, has previously worked basketball camps at Ferris, CMU, and the University of Michigan. He resides in Weidman, Mich.
