American Society of Heating, Refrigeration, and Air Conditioning Engineers (ASHRAE) Student Organization hosts First Annual Career Day

The first Annual Career Day hosted by the student chapter; American Society of Heating, Refrigeration, and Air Conditioning Engineers (ASHRAE) was held on Monday, November 10, 2008 at The Granger Center for Construction and HVACR. Visiting industry representatives included The Air Conditioning, Heating and Refrigeration (ACHR) News, Trane Harshaw, The Illingworth Corporation, TD Energy Solutions, Emerson Climate Technologies, and Atomatic.

John Hall, editor of The ACHR News commented, "I was impressed by the interaction between students and sponsors during the Career Day. Every dialogue seemed to last long enough for each side to learn a great deal about the other. It certainly makes a big difference when a student can discuss his or her career aspirations in a relaxed atmosphere and my hat goes off to the Ferris State University HVACR program for sponsoring a successful event."
