“Heat the Country”

The Ferris State Student Chapter of ACCA and West Michigan ACCA of the Air Conditioning Contractors of America (ACCA) completed their second Heat the Country program in October. They performed furnace clean-and-checks on four houses for Westown Jubilee Housing, one home in Muskegon, one in Allendale, and one home in Newaygo to improve the living conditions and provide safe, energy-efficient heating equipment for their residents.

Ferris State ACCA Student Chapter members Chris Foupht, Sam Senica, Gerard Lucas, Tom Fath, and Curtis Pawlowski were joined by ACCA faculty advisor Joe Compton and HVACR Department Secretary Jan Anderson. The students performed their work under the direct supervision of licensed contractors, including alumnus Phil Forner, president of Allendale Heating Company and current ACCA chairman, alumnus Doug Milholin, sales representative from Johnstone Supply, Eric Gordon and alumnus Kim Seaman representing Seaman’s Refrigeration, and Mark Grant from ACE Heating and Cooling.
