ANNA HOWARD SHAW

Reverend Doctor Anna Howard Shaw – minister, physician, ardent feminist, and masterful orator – worked to improve individual morality through her ministry, tried to improve society by moving into the temperance and suffrage movements, and finally campaigned vigorously for the League of Nations to promote world peace.

Anna was one of eight children from an immigrant family from England that settled in the Big Rapids area in 1857. Her family was quite poor, so her mother took in boarders from a nearby lumber camp. At the age of fifteen, Anna worked as a teacher at school five miles from her home.

Shaw went on to study at Albion College, and then to Boston University, where she earned degrees in ministry and medicine. In 1885 she gave up her pastorates and medical career to take up the causes of temperance and women's suffrage. In 1904 she became president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

During World War I, Shaw became chair of the Woman's Committee of the United States Council of National Defense, coordinating women's contributions to the war effort. For this work, in 1919 she became the first woman to earn the Distinguished Service Medal.

At the end of the war, and at the request of President Wilson and former President Taft, she lectured in the U.S. and Europe in support of world peace and the League of Nations. It was during one of those speaking tours that she fell ill and died in July, 1919, at the age of seventy-two. While Shaw died just before the Women's Suffrage Amendment was ratified, she fulfilled her vision of success: "Nothing bigger can come to a human being than to love a great cause more than life itself."

"MUSIC FOR LIFE!" AT FERRIS STATE UNIVERSITY

Music performance opportunities at Ferris State University are designed to supplement and enrich the lives of students by assisting them in making the transition from the high school musical setting to the world of adult amateur musical ensembles. Ferris students continue to develop their musical skills and prepare for a rewarding musical "life after college" by participating in Ferris' musical ensembles that include both college students and members of the community – the format of the majority of community ensembles throughout the country. In this way, we aspire to inspire all FSU students to continue to enrich their lives and the lives of others as active performers of music – for life! Please Contact the FSU Music Center at (231) 591-2501 for more information.
