Ferris State Men's Basketball National Championship Celebration April 14 At Wink Arena

The poster features a red background with white and yellow text. At the top, it reads "2018 NCAA DIVISION II MEN'S BASKETBALL NATIONAL CHAMPIONS". Below this, in large, bold, italicized red letters, is "CELEBRATE THE CHAMPIONS". Underneath that, in white bold letters, is "FERRIS STATE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP CELEBRATION!". On the left is the Ferris State Bulldogs logo, which includes the text "NCAA DIVISION II FERRIS STATE NATIONAL CHAMPIONS MEN'S BASKETBALL" and the year "2018". In the center, it says "SATURDAY, APRIL 14 6 PM - JIM WINK ARENA FREE ADMISSION!". To the right is a small image of the national championship trophy. Below the date and location, there are two columns of event details: "6 PM - DOORS OPEN", "6:30 PM - TEAM INTRODUCTIONS", "6:45 PM - SPEECHES" on the left; and "7-8 PM - CHAMPIONSHIP EXPERIENCE:" followed by a list: "- TEAM AUTOGRAPHS", "- PHOTOS W/CHAMPIONSHIP TROPHY", "- GAMES & SHOOTING CONTESTS", "- REWATCH CBS BROADCAST", and "- FEAR THE BEARD PHOTO & MORE!" on the right.

Big Rapids, Mich. - Ferris State University alumni, students and fans are invited to help "Celebrate The Champions" on Saturday, April 14, as FSU honors the school's 2018 NCAA Division II Men's Basketball National Championship squad in a special evening event at Jim Wink Arena.

The Bulldogs will honor and recognize this year's historic team, which captured the school's first national championship and also matched the all-time NCAA Division II record for victories in a season with a 38-1 campaign.

The free event will begin with the doors to Wink Arena opening at 6 p.m. (ET). Fans will be able to catch a replay of the CBS national championship game broadcast on a big screen with all team players and coaches introduced under the lights at 6:30 p.m. (ET). That will be followed by speeches from several individuals, including FSU head coach and National Coach of the Year Andy Bronkema along with a player representative.

Following the formal portion of the event, fans can enjoy a championship experience with a variety of games and special events from 7-8 p.m. (ET). It will include an autograph session for team members, photos with the national championship trophy, special shooting games involving life-sized player cutouts, confetti, a "Fear The Beard" photo station and more.

Throughout the evening, the FSU Pro Shop located inside the Ewigleben Sports Complex will be open for those wanting to purchase championship merchandise and the concession stand will also be open in the main concourse.

Along with the national championship trophy, the team's other hardware earned this season including the GLIAC Championship, GLIAC Tournament title and the Midwest Regional crown will also be on display.

Admission to the event itself is free and the public is encouraged to come out and honor this year's national championship squad.

Ferris State, which topped Northern State 71-69 in the national championship game last week in Sioux Falls, S.D., capped a magical season which saw FSU match the all-time NCAA Division II record for most wins in a year while finishing with a 38-1 mark. FSU also won its second consecutive Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (GLIAC) Regular Season Championship, a fourth-straight GLIAC Tournament title and the Midwest Regional crown.

In addition to Bronkema earning National Coach of the Year recognition, Ferris State also had the National Player of the Year in junior center Zach Hankins.

Wireless Microphone Equipment Update

Attention wireless microphone users and administrators of rooms with wireless equipment:

Recently the FCC successfully auctioned 84 MHz band of the Ultra High-Frequency spectrum; these frequencies are being transitioned to mobile broadband services. Systems in this frequency band need to be replaced by July, 13th 2020. If you own wireless microphone systems that operate in the auctioned spectrum (617-652 MHz and 663-698 MHz), it will be your responsibility not to interfere with new services once they begin operation. At the conclusion of the transition period, the operation of wireless microphones in the auction spectrum will not be permitted by law.

On a practical level, it is likely that these new services will create an unpredictable spectrum environment, resulting in interference that will affect the reliability of a wireless microphone operating in this spectrum. Thus to avoid interruptions in the classroom learning environments, it is highly recommended that action is taken. Equipment owners need to confirm the operating frequency range of their systems and comply with the new rules of operation during and after the transition period.

TAC-AV recommends that developing a plan to replace the equipment be strongly considered sooner than later. We will be available to help in any instance however at this time manufacturers are offering incentive pricing when replacing systems in these frequency ranges, these price incentives will expire Oct, 21st 2018.

Contact the Technology Assistance Center to schedule a time to review equipment in your spaces.

FCTL 06/18/18 Institute on Inclusion and Inclusive Classrooms

Institute on Inclusion and Inclusive Classrooms

Monday – Friday, June 18-22, 2018

9 AM – 12 PM

FLITE 405

Facilitators: Kemi Fadayomi and Todd Stanislav

The conversations and work we do in the Institute on Inclusion and Inclusive Classrooms will lead to practical and useful skills, ideas, and knowledge, and enable us to:

1. Identify aspects of our identities and describe how they influence or shape our responses, interactions, and perceptions of others;
2. Describe and use with increasing ease words, phrases, and concepts relevant to diversity and inclusion; and
3. Integrate or enhance methods and approaches that create increasingly more inclusive learning environments and experiences for students and others.

The Institute on Inclusion and Inclusive Classrooms is a space for faculty – non-tenure track, tenure-track, and tenured alike – to explore inclusion- and diversity-related topics that impact us as educators and members of other communities. We will explore learning barriers encountered by students and other topics such as social identity, intersectionality, microaggression, stereotype threat, and power and privilege. We'll have candid, respectful, and inspiring conversations on complex topics.

Where: FLITE 405

When: 9 AM-12 PM, Monday-Friday, June 18-22, 2018

How: Through readings, videos, and engaging with guest speakers and each other, we will create more inclusive learning environments and experiences for our students and others.

There's more! Faculty who participate fully and complete the work associate with the Institute will be eligible to receive a $800 Professional Development Incentive. A full breakfast and snack will be provided each day; and for those faculty traveling more than 50 miles, FCTL will reimburse for lodging.

Facilitators: Kemi Fadayomi and Todd Stanislav
